What were the main reasons that lead you to choose Brookside for your child's education?

- Friendly and family orientated school
- interesting curriculum
- Small school, inclusive, friendly and beautiful surroundings, lovely and dedicated staff - lots of space and greenery
- Had a look round, other parents recommendations
- Location
- It has a nice ethos - not all focus is on academia. Children already there seemed happy and calm.
- resource school integration/holistic approach to learning, not too pushy (unrealistic expectations)
- location
- A fantastic school with caring, supportive and hardworking staff!
- close by
- From my Daughters positive experience & that it's an all-inclusive resource school
- It is an excellent school that really cares about the individual children.
- we liked the school as soon as we visited everyone was very welcoming you get the vibe that it's a happy environment
- Head teacher showing us around and explaining the ethos and principles of the school.
- Its' location.
- It's size.
- Variety of activities and not just focusing on academic work."
- I went to this school and loved everything about it, therefore i wanted my children to have the same experience.
- Headteacher impressed on school tour. Setting next to countryside.
- Location, reputation, size local knowledge about the school, results and knowing children who have been happy here.
- Small friendly school. Integrates different children well and does not tolerate bullying.
- A nice small school.
- A small, friendly school with a genuine warm, family feel. Amazing hardworking, dedicated and professional staff who care about and know my child. My child is fully engaged, who skips happily into school each day. It is conforming as a parent in having the knowledge that my child is receiving a high quality education, with a balanced curriculum that allows for children with different talents to shine. The school is fully inclusive, each child is celebrated for their individuality and I feel that what this school can offer is a unique and rare find - I'm so happy for my child, that I did!
- his dad went to this school, I liked the fact it was a small intermit school

- location is close to where we live
- My son has autism and I wanted him to attend a mainstream school where he wouldn't be treated differently.
- Community school with good focus on children, outdoor learning/outdoor classroom, well behaved, opportunities to learn music skills and participate in external events etc.
- we just love the school the environment and the happy atmosphere
- Brookside has a lovely family feel when we looked round and certainly remains that why the past 3 yrs. when initially shown round I left feeling it wasn't solely focused on Stats and academic achievement which was great, for me social interactions, developing emotional intelligence, being kind, thoughtful and respectful of others, learning to form friendships and work through emotions is more important during this young age and Brookside ticked the boxes in this area for me. The handling of Covid has been great and certainly developed over the numerous national lockdowns - the changes to on line delivery mustn't have been easy - however whilst it must have been challenging to implement and stick with it certainly helped - we nearly made it through the year without a class isolating. Please pass on my thanks to Mr T, all teachers and staff in helping to keep everyone safe whilst continuing to teach my children.
- The outdoor space,
- the forest school element they use
- personal individual touch with each child's learning
- Mr Tavernor knowing all the children's names and always there to welcome the children into school and say bye at the end of school."
- Location and excellent reputation.
- The size of the school, the setting, the Headteacher and SENCO
- Great Ofsted report.
- Inclusivity and equality, pupils per class per teacher/assistant
- lovely outdoor space
